Vietnam War Target of May Day Speakers

Parades, Rallies Mark Holiday Except in U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Vietnam war loomed large in May Day demonstrations around the world today. Communist speakers attacked the United States. South Vietnamese leaders attacked the Communists. The United States generally ignored the workers' traditional holiday since it celebrates Labor Day in September.

Soviet Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko in his annual order of the day told Russian troops the Soviet Union supports the Vietnamese Communists "to the utmost." He called the struggle against the United States and its allies in Vietnam a "sacred war" and denounced the Americans as "invaders."

South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu told a labor rally in Da Nang that South Vietnam will never negotiate with the Viet Cong and will not cede "even one centimeter" of land to North Vietnam.

Around the world parades and rallies were held to celebrate La-

Senate Seeks New Office Building Despite Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, which voted only last month to boost taxes while slashing federal spending $6 billion, now has taken a first step toward giving itself a new office building critics contend will cost taxpayers $100 million.

The vote was 42 to 33 Tuesday for a measure authorizing $1.25 million for acquisition of a site for what would be the third Senate office building.

The approval overrode protests by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., author of the Senate-passed tax hike-spending cut measure, who contended congressional economy should start at home.

Williams, noting that until 10 years ago the Senate had only one office building for 96 members, said the construction would about triple the office space although only 4 more senators—those from Alaska and Hawaii—have been added in that period.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., managing the bill, rejected Williams' assertion the land is being bought "with the ultimate intention of building another $100 million office building."

A preliminary estimate, Jordan said, is that the building will cost $29.4 million. Money for the land acquisition still must be appropriated, and any construction also would face the dual authorization-appropriation process.

Of the 42 senators voting for the land purchase authorization, 19 had voted in late March to keep in the tax package sections directing the Johnson administration to trim federal spending by $6 billion.

The 19 include 10 Democrats, among them Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., the other co-sponsor of the tax package, and nine Republicans.

In addition, four senators who voted for the land purchase were among those who resigned last month from a Senate-House conference committee rather than support the demand of a majority of senators for extra pre-school and summer job funds. All cited Congress' commitment to economy in explaining their resignations.

The four are Democratic Sens. Richard B. Russell, of Georgia and Robert C. Byrd, of West Virginia, and Republican Sens. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Milton R. Young of North Dakota.

Others who voted for the expenditure reduction but supported the land purchase included Sens. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va.; Clifford P. Case, R-NJ; James O. Eastland, D-Miss.; Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii; Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.; Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho; Charles H. Percy, R-Ill.; James B. Pearson, R-Kan.; John J. Sparkman, D-Ala.; William B. Spong, Jr., D-Va.; John C. Stennis, D-Miss.; Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.; and Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md.

Ex-President To Be Flown To Washington

Attack Was Mild; 5-Star General Said Doing Well

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to be hospitalized here several weeks following a heart attack that an aide describes as mild.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

The 77-year-old soldier-statesman suffered a "myocardial infarction," a blood clot in a heart artery, the March Air Force Base Hospital said. It was his third heart attack since 1955.

The bulletin issued late Tuesday was the first official word of his illness. It said "a general prognosis cannot be made at this time."

Although the bulletin did not specify when the attack occurred, it was assumed that the five-star general was stricken Monday after playing golf in the morning.

Until Tuesday his ailment was described as "chest pains." "He has had a good day with no chest pain," the hospital bulletin said. "Blood pressure has remained normal. He has no fever. He has been visited by Mrs. Eisenhower."

An aide, asked if Eisenhower's condition could be described as a mild heart attack, said "that's right."

The bulletin said the two-term president would remain at the base hospital for "several weeks," and then be transferred to Walter Reed Army Hospital. (Continued on Page 2)

Phone Strike Accord Near

IUEW Maintains Tough Attitude

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiators in the 2-week-old nationwide telephone strike reportedly have virtually wrapped up a wage settlement and are close to an over-all contract agreement that could come as early as today.

"We see the light now and I am hopeful we will soon be at the point where a total package is worked out," said President Joseph A. Beirne of the striking AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America.

"We are now seeing eye to eye on wage levels that the union can live with," the CWA chief added.

Beirne said negotiators for some 200,000 workers involved in the strike resumed formal bargaining Tuesday with Bell Telephone System representatives for the first time since the walkout.

Any contract settlement is expected to set a pattern for all the approximately 600,000 workers in the Bell System.

Bell President Gordon Freeman of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said the IUEW, representing some 88,000 telephone workers, wouldn't be bound by the results of what he called "secret" company negotiations with the Communications Workers.

Before the strike, the Communications Workers rejected a wage increase offer estimated by the company as worth 5.6 per cent a year. Bell spokesmen said the union was demanding 7.8 per cent.

Cincy Schools Face Trouble

CINCINNATI (AP) — Demonstrations by students, largely Negroes, were resumed today at four Cincinnati public high schools and the School Board's Education Center said 11 were taken into custody by police at one school.

There was no immediate information as to the reason for the arrests, but the education center said 10 were students and one was an adult.

Police also reported marches in progress apparently to other schools.

Northeast Corner Of South Vietnam Hot Spot of War

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting raged today for the third straight day in the northeast corner of South Vietnam, where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops reported killing 616 of the enemy in the past two days.

Military spokesman said 43 Americans were killed and 221 wounded in heavy fighting Tuesday. The South Vietnamese lost six killed and 17 wounded. Allied casualties in two days of fighting in this sector totaled 60 killed and 279 wounded.

Military spokesmen said units of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division and South Vietnamese infantrymen regained contact about noon with a sizable North Vietnamese force near the Marine division's headquarters at Dong Ha. U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery were pounding the enemy positions.

It appeared that the Communist command might be shifting pressure to South Vietnam's northeast corner from the northwestern section, where the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh was under siege for 77 days earlier this year.

The Marines and government troops fought day-long battles Tuesday as they swept the northeast seacoast to take pressure off allied bases just below the demilitarized zone and off their land supply line, Highway 1. The allied forces are operating within a mile of each other and about nine miles below the eastern flank of DMZ.

After large clashes Monday near Hue and Dong Ha, the allied forces fought until nearly midnight Tuesday north and east of Dong Ha, and other allied troops drove off an enemy attack near Quang Tri City, eight miles farther south.

South Vietnamese forces reported killing 100 North Vietnamese Tuesday near Dona Ha in the same battle area where allied units claimed 130 enemy dead the previous day.

In another clash near the village where the U.S. 3rd Marine Division is headquartered units of the division reported killing 92 of an estimated 400 enemy soldiers fighting from fortified bunkers.

Cary Grant's Ex-Wife Seeks More Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Dyan Cannon, 30, divorced from actor Cary Grant, filed for an increase in alimony payments Tuesday to pay medical and dental bills.

Attorney Frank Felcher said in the Superior Court motion that his client "suffers from medical and dental problems as a result of her marriage which may render her unemployable in the future."

In her uncontested divorce March 21, Miss Cannon's alimony payments were limited to three years and called for her to receive $2,250 monthly for six months, $1,750 monthly for the next 18 months and $1,000 a month for the last year.

Grant, 64, was also ordered to pay $1,500-a-month support for their daughter, Jennifer, 2.

Judge Robert A. Wenke had said the amount was sufficient because Miss Cannon had "earning ability" as an actress.

OSU Studies Next Move In Protest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University trustees, in a special meeting Tuesday night, ordered an investigation of last Friday's seizure of the school's administration building. A new set of proposed rules for student conduct was also accepted for study.

Trustee John Ketterer of Canton, who made the motion asking for an investigation by the university administration, said students involved in last Friday's incident should receive "a full and fair hearing and trial and such discipline as is necessary."

Trustee James W. Shocknessy, who last weekend said the students involved should be thrown out of school, said Tuesday night, "These people are entitled to a hearing."

About 75 Negro students, by most estimates, took part in the administration building lock-in, calling it a demonstration over "black student problems." No arrests were made, and the students left the building after administration spokesmen promised to look into several grievances.

Muriel Humphrey Faces Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey is in Bethesda Naval Medical Center for what is described as routine pelvic surgery to correct a non-malignant disorder.

Capt. Walter M. Longergan, chief of obstetrics and gynecology, is to operate on the vice president's wife Thursday morning.

Mrs. Humphrey, 56, entered the hospital Tuesday night and is expected to remain there several days after surgery.

METER MAID — Judy Little, 27, of 156½ W. Main St., has been employed as Circleville's new meter maid. The post was recently created by City Council with a salary of $250 per month. There were over 20 applicants for the position. Mrs. Little is the mother of four children. She starts her new duties Thursday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Pfc. Donald E. Angerman of Wyoming, Ohio, has been killed in action, the Defense Department said Tuesday.

Rocky Gives Viet Views; Leads GOP Vote in Massachusetts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently intends to base his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination on alternatives to Richard M. Nixon's stands on the Vietnam war and big-city problems.

The New York governor called today on the South Vietnamese to assume major responsibility for fighting the war and said there should be a reversal of the "Americanization" of the conflict.

In a major foreign policy speech prepared for delivery before the World Affairs Council of Philadelphia, he also urged convening a council of Asian nations to work for economic progress and political stability in the area.

Rockefeller said "military escalation in the North is no answer" to what he called the essential issue in Vietnam: "The security of the population—rather than control of territory."

He also praised President Johnson for "his initiative in seeking a just peace," adding: "We have nothing to fear—and all to gain—from the careful, and responsible quest for a negotiated settlement."

He already has outlined a 10-year, $150-billion proposal against sum poverty. Nixon has said he would not join in "over-promising" slum dwellers help they won't get.

Rockefeller said March 21 that he was not a candidate but would speak out on the issues to try to influence his party's basic positions.

He said Tuesday: "I frankly find that to comment from the sidelines is not an effective way to present the alternatives—the alternatives that I believe can lead us out of our difficulties—to order and progress at home, to peace and understanding abroad."

Nixon predicted he still will win the GOP nomination but welcomed Rockefeller's entry and said it "will result in a more meaningful discussion of the issues."

Rockefeller led Nixon and Gov. John A. Volpe with a surprisingly strong write-in showing in the Massachusetts primary Tuesday. Only Volpe's name was on the ballot.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy was unopposed on the ballot and easily outpolled presidential rivals Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The unofficial count: Republicans (1,596 of 1,734 precincts)—Rockefeller 29,003, Nixon 24,739, Volpe 27,717. Democrats (1,596 precincts)—McCarthy 105,898, Kennedy 58,646, Humphrey 38,291, President Johnson 6,052.

In other political developments:

—Kennedy, campaigning in Indiana's May 7 primary, proposed in Indianapolis higher Social Security benefits and a benefits system that would not penalize retirees who want to keep on working.

—McCarthy said the recent stock market rally reflects an unexpected dovishness. "To those of us who had long since despaired of the economic implications of open-ended escalation (in Vietnam)," he said in New York City, "that remarkable rally came as a rather unexpected vote of confidence in peace."

—Humphrey flew to New York City to seek funds for his campaign. Sidney J. Weinberg, known in financial circles as "Mr. Wall Street," has been gathering Humphrey campaign funds for a week but declined to say how he is doing.

—Backers of third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace filed a petition to get his name on Colorado's November ballot and said they have enough petition signatures to get on Nevada's ballot.

Dzu polled 17 per cent of the votes in last fall's presidential election, half as many as President Nguyen Van Thieu. Dzu has been in and out of jail several times since the September election.

He was released April 14 after seven weeks of "protective custody" and shortly after reportedly told several newsmen that the only possible settlement to the Vietnam war was a coalition government that included the National Liberation Front. President Thieu and the interior ministry then announced that Dzu would be arrested for investigation for making the statement.

Accident Victim Placed Under 'Intensive Care'

Mrs. Kathryn Hoover, 53, Route 1, Amanda, injured in Tuesday's multi-vehicle collision on Route 23 south of Circleville, is in the intensive care ward of Grant Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. Hoover sustained a broken back and other injuries in the mishap. Mrs. Sally McPherson, a passenger and Mrs. Hoover's daughter, was admitted to Berger Hospital for treatment where she is listed in "good" condition by authorities.

Mrs. Carol Hedges was treated for a fractured nose and a fractured right shoulder and released by Berger Hospital. She also was a passenger in the car and Mrs. Hoover's daughter, Susie McPherson, age 1, was treated for lacerations and abrasions and released.

Donald L. Smith, South Bend, Ind., the driver of the truck that slammed into the rear of Mrs. Hoover's car and another truck, was charged with failure to maintain an assured clear distance in which to stop by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark.

HE entered a plea of no contest in Circleville Municipal Court and was fined $50 and costs by Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Smith and John Bland, Columbus, were treated and released by the Berger Hospital staff. Smith sustained lacerations of the arm.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated two other injury accidents Tuesday.

At 1:58 p.m. John B. Steele, 32, lost control of his car on the Florence Chapel road two miles northwest of Fox. His stepson, Steven Queen, 6, sustained a laceration of the lower lip. Steele told Deputy Sheriff George Linder he reached into the back of the car to get a coat for the youngster when he lost control, crashing into a utility pole.

Virgil Dett, 31, Route 1, sustained abrasions and contusions of the left arm when he struck a farm tractor driven by S. F. Dearth, 62, Route 1.

The accident occurred at 4:10 p.m. on Route 23 just south of Circleville.

Dett was cited by Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark for failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

Dett told the officer he did not see the tractor in time to avoid the accident.

DP&L Drops Electric, Gas Rates

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton Power and Light Co. announced plans Wednesday for an approximate $4.5 million reduction in gas and electric bills for its customers during the next two years.

Changes in the electric and gas rates resulting in a $2,412,000 yearly reduction for customers was filed Wednesday with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. These reductions will have to await commission approval before being placed in effect, but normally this is done within a relatively short time.

The company also announced a refund of $1.4 million and a rate reduction of $660,000 per year in natural gas bills resulting from lower rates charged by wholesale gas suppliers.

The gas refund will show in reduced bills during the next year, effective with the next billing. The overall average reduction for a residential gas customer will be in the area of $5 per year.

Eisenhower was reported on a light, low-calorie, low-sodium diet. Two heart specialists were flown from Walter Reed Monday night. The hospital announced Tuesday that Eisenhower was resting comfortably and in "excellent spirits."

A source close to Eisenhower said he had been busy the last few days and apparently had tired from the combination of activity and 100-degree heat at the desert resort.

President Johnson was informed Monday night of the illness of the man who led allied forces to victory in Europe in World War II. Johnson dispatched an Air Force plane to fly the Walter Reed doctors to March.

Tax Boost-Spending Cut Debates at Critical Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The behind-the-scenes maneuvering over higher taxes and spending cuts is at that critical stage where a breakthrough—or another bust—could come any time.

Key administration leaders are confident Congress will approve higher taxes in this election year although there are indications they might have to backtrack further on spending before any agreement.

The lines of communication between the administration and Congress are open wide and both sides are talking and listening.

One source said both sides agree taxes should be raised and spending should be blocked by squabbling over details and procedures or "marginal differences as to the degree of expenditure reduction required."

One of Fowler's chief arguments in seeking a tax hike is that it would curb inflation—a prime concern of his Chamber of Commerce audience.

Fowler hinted the idea of a 10 per cent income tax surcharge might be abandoned in favor of an increase in basic income tax rates, a tactic reportedly favored by some Congress members who have opposed the surcharge.

In Tokyo, 200,000 persons assembled to hear Socialist and Communist speakers urge the overthrow of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's government. The Spanish government massed police and civil guards in Madrid and other industrial cities.

Grechko also reviewed the annual Soviet military parade through Red Square and in a short speech accused the United States of "creating the danger of a new world war."

The military parade through the square lasted 45 minutes under a warm, clear sky. The Soviets showed off their smartest troops and paraded armored personnel carriers, self-propelled guns, tanks, long-range artillery, missile launchers and nuclear missiles.

No new military hardware was shown. But Soviet television commentators singled out for attention a 100-foot missile shaped like a pop bottle, first displayed last Nov. 7. It has unlimited range and "its nuclear charge is fantastic," said the official commentary.

Milwaukee Open Housing Law Passed

Demonstrators Reach Goal after 200 Marches

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Milwaukee's racial demonstrators, who endured stones, slurs and the rigors of Wisconsin's winter during 200 nights of marches, have reached their goal. City Hall has granted a strong open housing ordinance.

"We feel it is a significant victory," said the Rev. James E. Groppi. The white Roman Catholic priest helped lead marches by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Father Groppi was in the city's Common Council chambers with his young followers Tuesday when the council voted 15-4 in favor of a code outlawing discrimination in the sale or rental of all but two categories of Milwaukee housing.

Exempted under the measure, which was stronger than that recommended by Mayor Henry Maier, are single-family houses and owner-occupied duplexes.

The exemptions apply primarily to private sales transactions, not those through brokers. Alderman Orville E. Pitts, one of two Negro members of a council revamped by election, estimated the law applies to 95 per cent of the city's housing sales.

"All that's left is one last chunk," he said. He predicted that too would soon be outlawed.

Man Returned To Hamilton In Slaying Case

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Ronald Atkins was returned here early today from Columbia, Mo., and was charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting late Saturday night of Earl Wright, 24, and the wounding of Ralph Wilmoth, 27.

He will appear Thursday in Hamilton Municipal Court for a preliminary hearing.

The shooting occurred at the Fishville Tavern and police have said the shots apparently were fired from outside the tavern with a high-powered rifle. Atkins called the Butler County sheriff's office early Monday from Columbia and said he would surrender. Columbia police took him into custody at the telephone booth from where he was making the call.

Police there said they found a high-powered rifle in Atkins' car.

The rule of law

rights and duties

Preserving individual liberty in America may seem at first glance a simple matter. But liberty is endangered not alone by those who would suppress or deny it to others.

A more serious threat to liberty comes from those who would abuse it by irresponsible acts. The spirit of anarchy may well pose the most urgent peril to individual freedom in our nation's history.

There can be no real freedom in the absence of law and order. Enduring progress can come only if it is sanctioned by public acceptance and the processes of representative government.

That is the essence of the Law Day USA message this year. The theme: Only a lawful society can build a better society, affirms the truth that our country's social goals can and must be achieved through legal means.

If we were to lose the law as the framework of society we would lose freedom itself!

Good Election Years

Probably because major political parties espoused much more divergent economic policies, there was a time when it was generally believed that American business was inclined to move cautiously just before presidential elections.

Business men, it was explained, marked time while waiting to see which leaders and what economic philosophy would be guiding the country during the ensuing four years.

But does the record show that presidential years have been years when business activity fell below normal while people engaged in watchful waiting? Statistics for the last century do not support the idea.

In the last 25 years in which the nation voted for presidents business trends were upward in 15, mixed in three and downward in seven.

Since 1900 presidential years have found business expanding 10 times, mixed twice and giving ground five times.

Now the U.S. is in another presidential election year. Nearly all predictions are that it will be one of economic expansion and prosperity. New highs are in prospect for industrial production, employment and income.

Perhaps what the U.S. needs is more presidential election years.

Fighting Inflation

The Federal Reserve Board's increase in the discount rate from 5 to 5½ percent, the second hike in less than five weeks, was designed to strengthen the dollar's position at home and abroad. A dollar harder to borrow means greater respect for it.

But the new rate also is the precursor of increased interest rates for all types of borrowing. Hardest hit is expected to be the home construction industry.

Commercial banks are reluctant to tie up scarce funds in long-term mortgages when borrowers are waiting in line for short-term high-yield loans.

Yet the purpose of the higher discount rate, highest since the summer before the 1929 stock market crash, when it went briefly to 6 per cent, is to discourage borrowing by consumers and business.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THERE'S NO END to those stories about super-rich Texans and their peccadillos. When Wall Street financier Arthur Goodman, for example, asked a Dallas customer, "How's business holding up in your sector?" the Texan drawled, "My boy, in Dallas we do more business by accident than you coots in Wall Street do on purpose!"

Art Linkletter tells about the lone lady diner at a fashionable restaurant who observed that a gent at a nearby table had left a succulent lamb chop untouched on his plate. Remembering her two ever-hungry poodles locked up in her car, she asked over to the table, and had just wrapped the chop in a napkin and was depositing it in her purse when a waiter tapped her on the shoulder and whispered, "The gentleman who was eating at this table just stepped outside for a telephone call."

QUOTABLE: Asked what lesson he had picked up from the white man's efforts at teaching the red man "civilization," a Navajo answered solemnly, "Ingratitude." And a learned football coach in Iowa, asked on TV to rate one of his new sophomore backfield stars, enthused, "He's good, all right, and he'll be even better when he improves."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

In one of your recent columns, you wrote about the reduction of emotional tension while listening to music. Has this method ever been used for patients who are severely disturbed and even confined to mental institutions? It sounds like a wonderful idea to help such unfortunate people.

Mr. B.T.B., New York
Dear Mr. B.: Many people spend hours of their time suppressing anger or building up rage following unimportant experiences and daily contacts. I found this to be particularly true even in docile people who, behind the wheel of an automobile, spewed anger that was contrary to their ordinary behavior.

When I realized that anger is a thorough waste, especially since insignificant problems don't deserve it and important problems are never solved by it, I found a personal remedy. I carry a Bible in my car and when the traffic is heavy and tension mounts and fuming drivers noisily sit on their horns, I reach for it. You just can't get angry while reading the Bible even if you are surrounded by a cacophony of noise and expressions of fury.

There is an extension of this into the field of music. I learned and know that one cannot

The World Today

By JOHN BECKLER (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The concentration of Negroes in large Northern cities is beginning to produce its own kind of Black Power—black political power.

This year Negroes won control of city governments in Cleveland, Ohio, and Gary, Ind. In November they're expected to gain at least three more seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

That would increase the number of Negro congressmen to nine, the highest yet; higher even than the seven who served at the peak of Negro participation in Reconstruction-era government.

For years congressional district lines in most big cities were drawn to divide the black community among several predominantly white districts. But the steady flocking of Negroes to urban areas has made such draftsmanship increasingly difficult.

The three new districts expected to elect Negroes this fall are in New York City, Cleveland and St. Louis.

Rather than run in the new districts two of the white incumbents have moved over to tackle incumbents in adjoining districts and the third one has announced his retirement.

Although having 9 members in a 435-member House would leave Negroes far short of their proportionate weight of about 11 per cent of the total population, their strength in Congress has increased steadily, if slowly, since World War II.

Until 1945 only Chicago had elected a Negro congressman in the 20th century, its South Side Negro community having had its own representatives since 1930.

In 1945 Adam Clayton Powell of New York made his flamboyant entrance on the national scene; in 1954 Detroit elected its first Negro member; in 1958, Philadelphia; in 1962, Los Angeles—and in 1964 Detroit became the first city with two Negro representatives.

In 1966 the first Negro senator since Reconstruction was elected, Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts.

Some Negro leaders expect to pick up more than three seats in November, with Los Angeles and Chicago offering the best prospects. If it doesn't happen this year, it seems certain the number will grow after the 1970 census requires another round of redistricting.

The population increase among Negroes since 1950 has been almost all in central cities of metropolitan areas. Negroes are 26 per cent of the population in cities or metropolitan areas with more than 1 million population. And the larger the city the faster the Negro population is growing.

The 1970 census will probably show Negroes making up more than half the population of Newark, N.J., and just under half of Baltimore's, making the election of Negro congressmen from those cities likely.

The present group of Negroes in Congress indicates Negro voters have not been won by such militants as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown.

Only Powell, who has been denied his seat in the present Congress, has made an issue of race. The others go about their business with only their color distinguishing them from the other representatives of the people of the United States.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.

Education in the Slums

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

It's becoming an article of faith that education in the slums must wait on the appropriation of billions of dollars for new plant, vastly upgraded teachers' salaries, new technological gimmicks such as the talking typewriter and the overhead projector, and at least a fifty-fifty mingling of white and Negro students. But this isn't true at all. Good education in the slums needs only the right sort of reading instruction that will begin with the basic elements of the language—the sounding and blending of consonants and vowels, the separation of the syllables—and go on to give students some interesting literature by writers who know how to tell stories in words that sing.

If you don't believe this, go, as I did the other day, to Public School Number 26 in the Bedford-Stuyvesant region of Brooklyn. This public school is 22 per cent Puerto Rican, the rest Negro. In past years it has had one of the worst academic ratings in Greater New York City. It still has its troubles, deriving largely from its neighborhood situation; just recently there were three break-ins, with smashed windows, stolen key racks, and the partial destruction of thirty school rooms. But this year it is putting academic failure behind it: its first- and second-grade pupils, even those with the most meager cultural backgrounds, are learning to read, to write, and to speak in complete sentences. Moreover, the upper classes, from grade three to grade five, are, thanks to good remedial teaching, catching up with their peer groups in supposedly more fortunate schools. Even the parents, many of them Puerto Rican Spanish, are coming to P.S. 26 to learn English in an afternoon program.

This, mind you, is in drab Bedford-Stuyvesant, the slum which, according to Negro leader James Farmer, has the most deficient schools in the country. The books that Public School 26 is using are the Open Court Basic Readers, but they could be similar phonics-based readers ("word study exercise with the vowel a," "word study exercise: rhyming words," etc.) put out by other companies that are riding the new trend line. The underlying theory—which was once standard theory throughout the United States before look-and-guess "word recognition" took over—is the important thing, for it catches the long neglected ear-minded student who learns primarily by hearing words. (The eye-minded boy or girl sees the words no matter what system is used.)

I watched Mrs. Bebe Jablonski put the supposedly least able class of 15 through its first-grade paces. Every member could read. Last year, before Principal Louis Debin changed the method and program of instruction, a comparable group had struggled into April without knowing what words were for except to be yelled at in. A middle group, taught by Mrs. Hazel McPherson, was reading Aesop's fable about the tiger who stopped to play the flute before eating the young goat. Two- syllable words in the young goat's mouth did not faze the children, though they did flummox the tiger who was bemused into letting the goat escape. A third group, taught by a dynamic young lady named Lenore Aroesty, was positively brilliant: it was picking card letters out of the alphabet to spell words like "eagle" with no difficulty, and it could distinguish "eagle" from "beagle" and "bugle" as no "look-say" student in the first grade has ever managed to do with any facility.

Last year the Public School 26 kids were looking at picture books about Tip, the dog, and getting nowhere. This year the kids have exciting fare: their first-grade book, "Reading Is Fun," gives them some ancient favorites such as Gelel Burgess's "The Purple Cow," Robert Louis Stevenson's "The Swing," the Norse fairy tale about "The Three Billy Goats Gruff," the English folk story of "Dick Whittington and His Cat," and loads of material from Aesop and Mother Goose among the old-timers and Vachel Lindsay and Christina Rossetti among comparative moderns. The stuff swings as it sings and it doesn't matter in the least that Aesop, presumably, was a Greek honky. Later Open Court readers, for the fifth and sixth grades, to get around to integrated fare, including, for example, a poem by Hildegard Hoyt Swift, a Negro, that brings tears to your eyes.

The teaching staff at Public School 26 is integrated. But, 15 miles north of here in Scott County, quality in key posts. Mrs. Audrey Blackman, white, is the reading coordinator; Mrs. Frederica Christian, Negro, is the remedial reading teacher. They meet on a level of competent enthusiasm for what they are doing—and the same could be done by other mixed faculties in every single school in New York City.

So why isn't it being done? The people who pay for the schools have the right to ask.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — As usual, there was little good news in the latest consumer price statistics. True, vegetable prices declined in March but almost everything else was higher, and food prices helped lead the advance.

This was the 14th straight month of rising prices. And, government men say, there will almost certainly be a 15th straight advance shown when the April figures are in.

The fact that essentials such as food led the advance in March could be interpreted as an omen, for it was increases in food prices a couple of years ago that led to the housewives' rebellion against retailers.

An even more ominous threat is that of price controls. With goods and services that sold for $10 in 1958 now retailing for $11.95, and with the rates of inflation the greatest since the Korean War, controls are a possibility.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, downgrades this possibility. With prospects being for peace talks in Vietnam, price and wage controls, he said, seem "almost out of the question...at this time."

But who knows when peace will come or inflation end? Many Americans have a tendency to discount the red flags of inflation because, they find, their pay checks are growing also. But last month purchasing power dropped. Should this continue, the sentiment for controls would grow.

Adding a powerful and steady thrust to the rising chart lines are the costs of services, the prices of which are often less obvious than the price tags at the grocery.

It will surprise some consumers to learn that increases in food costs and housing and apparel during the past 10 years have been at a rate smaller than the over-all price index.

Based on 1958 prices equalling 100, the consumer price index now is 119.5. But the food price index, despite recent sharp increases, is only 117.9, and the cost of clothing and upkeep of clothing is nearly the same at 117.6. Housing is 117.2.

The largest increases by far have been in services rather than goods, in items such as shoe repair, automobile maintenance, recreation, taxes, home repairs, college tuition, but especially in medical and dental costs.

Medical care now has increased nearly 43 per cent in the past decade, but even this high percentage doesn't really tell the story. In some areas the cost per day of a hospital room has nearly doubled.

The damage to the nation wrought by such inflation becomes obvious when you recognize that many of those who need medical aid are those whose incomes do not rise with inflation. Living on pensions, insurance policies and perhaps on investments, their income is fixed but their outgo runs wild.

But others are hurt also. During inflation there is a tendency in some job categories such as teaching, government and the service industries, for wage increases to fall well behind the rate of inflation.

Anybody with investments is likely to be hurt also. With the present rate of inflation in excess of 4 per cent, interest on most bank accounts has been nullified. Insurance policies shrink in value by the same percentage.

Businessmen are hurt. The Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, in a booklet called "Inflation and or Unemployment," comments:

"...the businessman often is deluded into thinking that his company is more profitable than it really is. With visions of artificially sweetened profits dancing in his head, he may decide to expand his operations more than the real potential warrants."

Sooner or later everyone who experiences the distortions of inflation begins to take remedial action. They cut back on spending. They institute economy drives. They drop workers. They postpone purchases.

That is the real danger of those rising prices almost everywhere in the economy. Although inflation hurts more, the correction usually hurts more. Although the correction can be mild or severe, it can't be avoided.

Montenegro Takes Over in Guatemala

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
Associated Press Writer

GUATEMALA (AP) — In a daring strike almost two years after his election, President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro has assumed full control of the government, which he had been forced to share with military overlords.

As a result, a measure of peace has settled over this long troubled Central American country, where political violence between rightist and leftist extremists has taken at least 1,000 lives and possibly as many as 4,000, since Mendez, a Liberal, became president in July 1966.

The only violent deaths of political significance since the shift three weeks ago involved the leaders of a right-wing terrorist organization, slain while in police custody under official explanation but still clouded circumstances.

The move that squashed right-wing extremist influence in the government—at least for the present—came last March 28 when President Mendez fired three top officials including Defense Minister Rafael Arriaga Bosque.

The president's decision, it is generally believed here, has stripped rightist terrorists of official protection and pacified the non-Communist left. It has also neutralized an effective source of Castroite recruiting propaganda: militarism in government.

Still to be seen is just how far-left militants, given a respite from military pressures, will respond to the changes.

The abduction of Guatemala's archbishop, Msgr. Mario Casariego, last month is regarded as a catalyst in bringing the explosive Guatemalan situation to an anticlimax few local or foreign observers had anticipated.

The kidnapping of the 58-year-old prelate was the far right's boldest and most desperate bid to bring down Mendez. The new apparent objective was to make it appear the abduction was the work of the far left and thus turn Roman Catholic sentiment against the government, which the rightists claim is infiltrated with Communists.

There was little or no public response, however, because it was quickly established that the rightist terrorist group MANO was responsible.

The Guatemalan Curia exhorted Catholics to remain calm and refused to deal with the kidnappers who had issued an ultimatum that unless Mendez resigned the archbishop would be killed. He was released March 20.

The archbishop had been in Mexico on church business and was kidnapped March 16 as he was being driven from the airport to his home.

The circumstances of the abduction—in broad daylight in an area usually alive with armed guards and during a "state of alarm" when official surveillance is supposedly at its sharpest—strongly suggested acquiescence if not direct involvement of high official circles.

It is believed this is what persuaded Mendez to bring matters with the ultrarightists in the regime to a showdown.

Assured of the support of the air force, under Col. Drte Monterrosa, and of the country's most important military unit, the Mariscal Zavala Barracks under Col. Enrique Daniel Cifuentes, Mendez made his move. He summoned Col. Arriaga Bosque, the defense minister, to his office and informed him of his dismissal along with the chief of the Zacapec Military Base in eastern Guatemala and the chief of police. The three were considered the most militant rightists in the regime.

Arriaga's hand in government affairs is considered to have grown heavier as the fight between left and right extremists intensified. Formation of the civilian MANO organization—for Organized National Anti-Communist Movement—involved ultraconservative government officials in the fight, which spread into open resistance to Mendez' attempts at fiscal and social reforms.

The consensus appears to be that the president has considerably fortified his position. But it is still not known how the rightists will react if the president decides to proceed with needed reforms.

neighbors

have stopped baking pies!

Maybe it's because they discovered Jane Parker Pies... thousands have.

But...you say, "No thanks, there is nothing like a good home-baked pie."

We agree...they're great."

But would you believe it if we told you our Jane Parker Pies taste home-baked? Probably not...until you've tried one.

Then you'd discover the crust is short and flaky like your own.

You'd discover the fruit is the kind you'd use... the best...juicy, not stiff with starch.

And if you popped a Jane Parker Pie into the oven and warmed it before serving, you'd discover a pie you'd be proud to call your own.

Are Jane Parker Pies a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

Ohio Elks Association Sets Annual Meeting May 2-5

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Details of the 70th annual convention of the Ohio Elks Association this week have been completed, according to Fred M. Lees of Maumee, state secretary-treasurer. The four-day conclave will begin Thursday and end Sunday, with sessions in the Neil House, Columbus.

The 100th anniversary of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and the 70th birthday of the Ohio Elks Association, the oldest Elks' state organization in the nation, will be observed.

Theme of the convention will be a "Proud Past and a Challenging Future." A historical pageant featuring an old-time initiation ritual has been scheduled.

Convention speakers include the Rev. Fr. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church, Washington, C.H., and the Rev. John M. Falkenburg of Columbus, president of Bible Literature International. Elks State President Elwood W. Reed of Bowling Green will preside at the meetings.

Registrations will begin at noon Thursday, May 2. At 9 a.m. Friday, May 3, a state ritualistic contest is set in Columbus Elks Lodge. Kenneth Kidd of Bowling Green will be in charge, with officers from Salem, Chillicothe, New Philadelphia, Troy, Lima, Willard and Lakewood participating.

Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensesbrenner is scheduled to greet the delegates in ceremonies at 1:30 p.m. Friday. Fr. Connelly is to present the annual Memorial service address, honoring deceased members. Vocal selections will be sung by the Adult Choir of the Columbus Immaculate Conception Church.

Business sessions will be dominated by reports on Elk Sponsored projects including cerebral palsy treatment, therapy, community welfare and Americanism.

Saturday activities, May 4, are to begin at 10 a.m. with a clinic for lodge secretaries. W. S. Firestone of Lima will be in charge.

Rev. Falkenburg, who has toured Israel, India, Indonesia and Vietnam, is to speak at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, May 4, at a Youth Day luncheon. Approximately $9,700 in youth leadership and most valuable student awards and scholarships are to be announced.

Gov. James A. Rhodes has designated May 1 to May 7 as Elks Youth Week in Ohio in honor of the event. Russell D. Pfeiffer of Kenton is in charge of the program.

The Centennial Pageant is planned for 2 p.m. Saturday and will feature the Van Wert Elks Men's Choir under the direction of Jay Hall. Others participating in the pageant will be Kenneth W. Strunk and Joseph J. Blanchard of Lima, Eugene W. France and Kenneth Kidd of Bowling Green, Ray Earle of Maumee, Vinton Spohn of Toledo, Ralph Patterson of Bellefontaine, Russell Kaufman of Wapakoneta and Sam Fitzsimmons of Van Wert.

Saturday will also see the election and installation of new state officers and presentation of Ohio Elk of the Year and Elk Hall of Fame awards.

A party and style show for women attending the convention will be hosted by Mrs. Robert Stoller of Van Wert and Mrs. Vinton Spohn of Toledo Saturday afternoon.

The meetings will conclude Sunday with a past exalted rulers' brunch and announcement of the winner of the state ritualistic crown.

Among those scheduled to make reports during the four-day convention are C. Ross Cline, Chillicothe, and Steven Jones, Circleville.

John D. Quinn, Sidney, is to report on charitable funds while Norman C. Parr, Columbus, announces student scholarship loans.

Business Briefs

A&P Food Stores in this area will discontinue their present Bonus Bingo shopping game at the close of business Saturday, May 11, according to N. J. Gallo, vice president in charge of A&P's Columbus Unit.

This action is based on the recent common pleas court ruling that shopping games are in violation of Ohio's anti-lottery law. "Although we thought our game was completely legal, since we even offered to mail game slips to anyone who cared to write for them, the court has ruled otherwise and A&P will comply with that ruling in good grace," Gallo said.

A&P Stores will continue to dispense game slips through May 11, and winners may claim their prizes of cash, merchandise and Plaid Stamps as usual, according to Gallo.

MISSILE ON DISPLAY—This powerful U. S. Air Force surface-to-air interceptor missile will be at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital on Sunday, May 5. The Bomarc is on guard at strategic locations throughout the United States on a 24-hour basis. It will be available for viewing from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in observance of National Hospital Day.

Chillicothe's VA Hospital Celebration Scheduled

Sixty-five renowned marching and musical units will participate in the 3 p.m. "Salute-a-Vet" parade at Chillicothe's Veterans Administration Hospital on Sunday, National Hospital Day. Other entries consisting of floats, queens, horse patrols, and visiting dignitaries will bring the total to 130 units by the starting time.

Representing Chillicothe in the parade will be Miss Janet Collins, the reigning Pumpkin Show Queen, and the Chillicothe High School "Tiger" Band, under the direction of George Marshall. Making their first appearance in the parade will be the Davis-Demon Drum Corps, led by Jean Justice Jr.

Volunteers of the Pickaway County Chapter, American Red Cross, will be on duty Hospital Day to greet visitors and help with tours, and they will participate also in the 3 p.m. parade.

VA officials are equally enthusiastic about the scope and diversity of other entries coming from all parts of Ohio. Included in 19 band commitments is the 338th from the XX U. S. Army Corps. Among four drum and bugle corps are the "Vacationland Sweethearts" of Port Clinton, Massillon's "Marching Sergeants" make a featured unit in the 15 color guards. Of the 29 marching units, Ohio University will be represented by three crack outfits — "Pershing Rifles", "Green Berets", and the "Coed Cadettes". Reigning beauties of 11 community celebrations include the Queen of Milan's Melon Festival. Towering over 12 floats will be the USAF Bomarc Area Defense Missile. Portsmouth's "Shawnee Saddle Club" is one of four well disciplined patrol unit entries.

According to the Chillicothe VA Hospital director, continuing success has been experienced with the parade since adopted as part of Hospital Day activities in 1951. It was intended to give responsible citizens an opportunity to share in the hospital's efforts at educating the public about mental illness. Cooperation received has steadily grown as the event increasingly became a natural means of expressing popular appreciation and good wishes to veteran patients.

Two post-activities provide additional opportunities for the public to see some of the parade's key participants. The 661st Air Force Band is handling musical arrangements for a Formal Retreat ceremony at 4:30 p.m. The American Red Cross will hold a reception at 5 p.m. so that visitors can meet honored guests. They include the national presidents of three women's organizations: Mrs. Marie Hart (Cleveland), American Gold Star Mothers Mrs. Ethel Beck (Harrison, N.J.) American War Mothers and Mrs. Evelyn Bednar (Milwaukee, Wis.), Blue Star Mothers of America.

Posture Week Is Observed

Dr. H. H. Shuttleworth of W. Franklin St., chairman of the Circleville Correct Posture Committee, announced today that the traditional annual observance of Correct Posture Week will be held in this area May 1 through May 7.

Correct Posture Week has been fostered by the chiropractic profession on a national scale for many years. It is sponsored locally by member doctors of the Ohio Federation of Chiropractic Organizations.

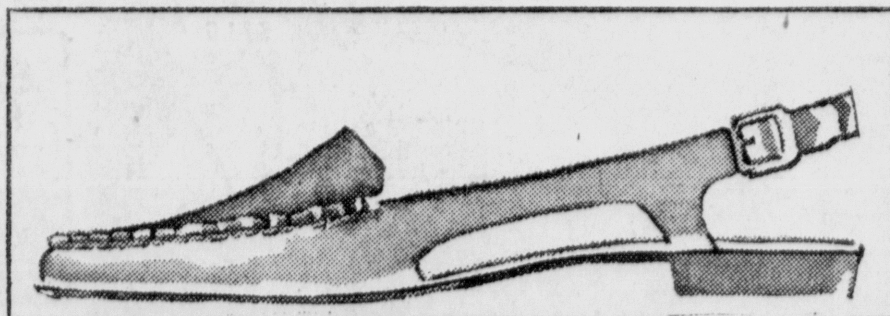

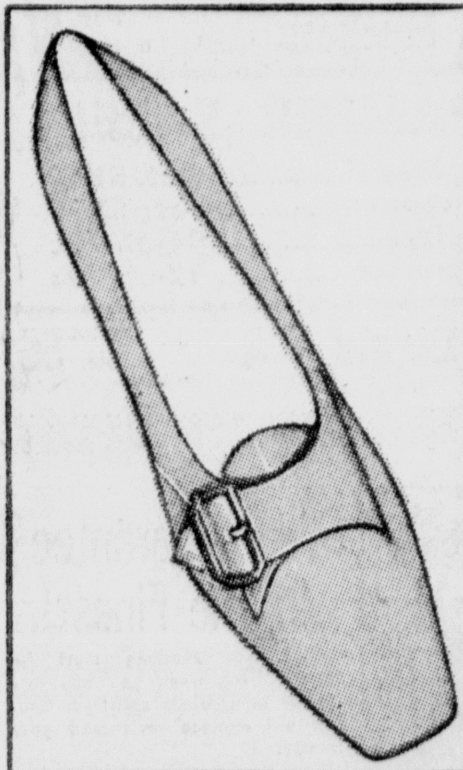

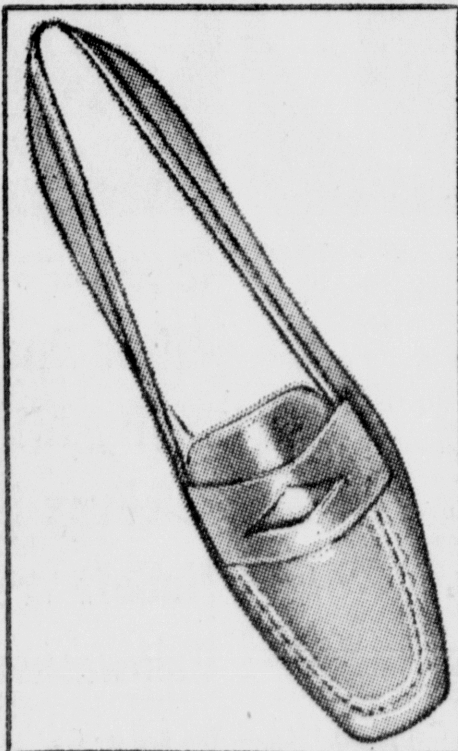

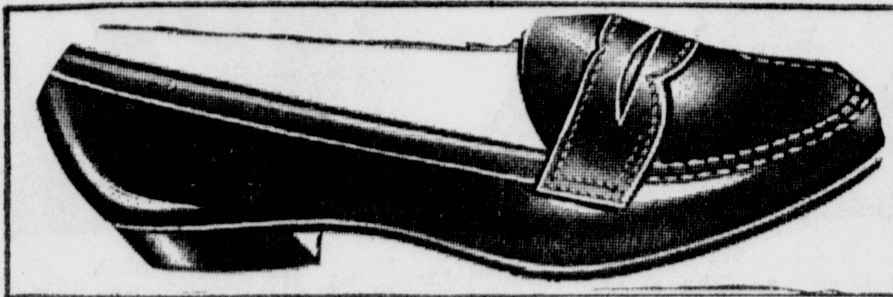

"Purpose of the annual observance is to call attention to the importance of good posture to health and appearance," Dr. Shuttleworth explained. "We are particularly interested in impressing this relationship on school age children in the hopes that many, if not all of them, will improve their postural habits."

Posters showing the right and wrong ways of standing, walking, and sitting are distributed in public and parochial schools throughout the state. Teachers are asked to cooperate through the use of teaching guides during the week-long observance.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Relative Not Always Best Friend

DEAR ABBY: I know you will find this hard to believe, but every word of it is true: There is an elderly gentleman (in his eighties) living in a small, single room in a local hotel. This man has married children and grandchildren in town who hardly look at him.

He can't dress himself, or bathe very well, and his eyesight is failing, so the maids help him. (The maids take better care of him than his own family.)

Several months ago, a maid found him on the bathroom floor. He had fallen the night before and couldn't get up, so he just laid there, cold and shivering all night.

He eats only once a day on a tray sent to his room, and that's usually oatmeal and coffee. On Sundays the kitchen is closed, so he doesn't eat from Saturday until Monday morning.

How can people be so heartless? Today is Sunday, and believe me, Abby, my appetite is gone just thinking about that poor, old, neglected man.

"A FRIEND"

DEAR FRIEND: If you really want to help, why don't YOU look in on the old gentleman? (You don't have to be a relative to extend a kindness.) Writing to me without a clew of who YOU are, who HE is, or even the city in which he lives, is futile. And your loss of appetite won't help him much, either.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who has just started to date. I am going to ask you a question I have asked many others but I have never been able to get anyone to give me a straight answer.

When a girl really likes a fellow and they are alone together, naturally they are going to make out some, but how far should a girl go?

WANTS TO KNOW
DEAR WANTS: The limits of self-respect will provide the answer. A boy who has genuine affection for a girl will never do anything that will degrade her, or make her feel ashamed. Courtship is preparation for marriage; ask any boy how far he would like the girl he marries to go on a date. And if he's honest, you'll have an honest answer.

DEAR ABBY: You recently printed a letter from someone who said if an adopted child turns out bad, it could be because of "bad blood." Well my blood ("bad" or otherwise) boiled.

I was adopted when I was an infant. I don't know exactly how old I was when I learned about it but it was early enough for me to say, "Yes, I know," when a cousin whispered what he thought was a big secret.

Much later I became curious about my natural parents. After satisfying that normal curiosity, I promptly put it aside and seldom think about it until some ignoramus makes a statement about "bad blood," then I blow-up.

Of course, heredity is a factor, but the strongest force in shaping a child's character is environment, and an adopted child will be more like the couple who adopted him than anyone else.

However, here is one fact that seems to be overlooked. The adopted child KNOWS that he was wanted, and that he's not in the family because she forgot to take "the pill," or they got drunk one night. For this reason, the adopted child should be especially secure in the knowledge that he is loved by his adopted parents.

If you print this, please use my right name. I'm d— proud of it.

Senate Approves Measure for Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to permit Ohio to sell federally appropriated school lands in the state and to use the proceeds for educational purposes with-out restriction was approved Tuesday by the Senate and sent to President Johnson.

The state had asked for the legislation, explaining that the original acts of Congress authorizing sale of the lands imposed restrictions which had caused administrative problems.

El-Farra in a statement Tuesday said he had accused Israel of "glaring defiance of the authority and will" of the council, which on Saturday unanimously adopted a resolution calling on Israel not to hold the parade.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Te-koh rejected the resolution.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council continues debate today on the situation in Jerusalem, meeting on the eve of a military parade that Israel plans to hold in the captured Arab sector of the city despite a council resolution opposing it.

Muhammad H. El-Farra of Jordan was the only speaker listed for the afternoon meeting, the council's third on the complaint he filed last week against the parade. He was expected to press the council for action to stop the march, which will commemorate Israel's 20th anniversary, but there appeared to be nothing effective the council could do.

El-Farra in a statement Tuesday said he had accused Israel of "glaring defiance of the authority and will" of the council, which on Saturday unanimously adopted a resolution calling on Israel not to hold the parade.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Te-koh rejected the resolution.

Friends, Critics Agree: School Aid Title I Not Working

By GARVEN HUDGINS
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Title I, the federal project on which $3 billion has been spent in the hope of answering the educational needs of deprived children, is not working out. On this point, critics and supporters alike are agreed.

Some critics call the two-year-old project a total flop, and others claim it has actually worked against poor children.

While supporters reject this argument, they concede that Title I isn't functioning as its sponsors intended.

"The Title I program obviously does not carry any impact on motivating ghetto youngsters," said Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., chairman of the House General subcommittee on Education. "You go across the length of the country and you find the money being spent on the same tired old ideas. It is a monumental flop and the outbreak of recent riots speaks louder than anything I can say about the total collapse of the program."

Joseph Froomkin, assistant U.S. commissioner of education, said that Title I, at the very least, has focused attention on one of America's worst problems, and should be continued, but added, "We still have little evidence that the problem is being licked; in fact, we may even be falling behind."

"I think we probably would need $5 billion a year to do the job adequately," Froomkin said in an interview. "The program is spread too thinly. One billion dollars a year, the present appropriation, spread around the country isn't a lot of money."

Title I is the heart of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act passed by Congress in 1965 to provide funds for the education of poor children. It established a national goal to equalize educational opportunities for all children by compensating for the disadvantages of those who grow up in poor communities.

Educators contend that poor children start school later, learn less while they are there, and drop out sooner. The result, they say, is that poverty tends to perpetuate itself.

For the current fiscal year, $1.15 billion has been allocated for Title I. But a national survey by a panel of distinguished U.S. educators has concluded that too much of this amount is going to expand old curricula and ideas that already have proven to be blind alleys. The National Advisory Council on the Education of Disadvantaged Children said these faults turned up in the course of

Derby
Mrs. Georgia Sweet
896-2462

I would like to make a correction from last week's Derby news concerning the annual Silver Tea, which was originally planned for April 20. The following notice is correct because it comes directly from the ladies of the Derby WSCS: The Silver Tea will not be held at all this year because of the various other social events which are scheduled for the month of May.

Mrs. Nelle Bauhan was the weekend guest of Mrs. Georgia Duke of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ridgway of Bowersville were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mrs. Elsie Smith, Nancy, and Don.

Don't forget the Smorgasbord dinner at Westfall High School next Sunday May 5, which is being sponsored by the Westfall Booster Club. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Spangler were the Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Spangler's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Phillips and son Teddy, at their home in Delaware.

Birthday greetings to Mrs. Josephine Yoakum on April 30; Bobby Liff on April 30; Barbara Peterson on April 30; Mrs. Dwight Spangler on May 2; Bill Holton on May 2; Mrs. Doris Yoakum Meehan on May 4.

Honor Rolls List 2 Area Collegians

Two area college students made the dean's list at their respective schools during the winter quarter.

They were James Diltz, of Walnut Creek Pike, attending Wilmington College; and Charlene Flaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flaker of 927 S. Washington St., attending Bliss College.

its nationwide survey: Small group instruction, a major Title I goal, frequently takes the form of organizing school children into groups of like ability. In effect this results in groupings by cultural and economic backgrounds.

"Title I will hardly be fulfilling its mission if it fosters a new track system, removing the disadvantaged child from his more stimulated and motivated school mates," the council said.

In an area that council members feel any advance might have produced the most dramatic results of all—parent involvement in the child's learning—there was almost no apparent progress.

"One reason the disadvantaged child is disadvantaged is because he does not bring to school a motivation acquired at home," said the council.

The study found that less than one-third of all projects surveyed involved changes that encouraged experimentation or exploration. And most in-service teacher training—supported by federal funds—worked out to be a couple of hours after each school day with an average length of projects 10 days.

Title I aims at helping all poor children, but the biggest problem is in predominantly Negro schools of the big cities. In channeling aid to those schools, the program has been caught in the middle of a hot dispute between those pressing for racial integration and those who want better schools in Negro neighborhoods.

Harold Howe II, U.S. commissioner of education, endorses both goals but argues that improving predominantly Negro schools "will not by itself do the trick... we cannot hope to convince the Negro child that he is as good as any other youngster as long as we quarantine him in schools reserved for racial and national minorities."

Another who shares Froomkin's "modest optimism" about Title I is Dr. Alice M. Rivlin, deputy assistant secretary for program analysis with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"I think we have found the task is much tougher than we thought at the start... when it began, we really didn't know how to go about it. We still don't, really, but we're trying to find out. There is no evidence that it (the program) has failed... I'm very optimistic. I think what we've got here is a big experimental program and I think it should be continued. At the very least it has focused attention on deprived children—something that wasn't true before," she said.

Dr. Thomas B. Pettigrew, a Harvard social psychologist, charged the program is working against research findings that "the most important thing a school can provide for disadvantaged children is contact—meaningful contact—with affluent children."

Pettigrew said in an interview that the program gives first choice on funds to schools that have a majority of poor youngsters, and "This further separates the poor from the rich."

He likened Title I to the federal rivers and harbors programs. "Everybody can get cut in whether he needs it or not... that's why it has been so popular politically."

The U.S. Office of Education has consulted with school superintendents in 28 major U.S. cities and urged them to draw up proposals and select target areas to strengthen the Title I program.

"It's naive to assume that in two years time we can totally reverse trends and change institutions that are hard to change," said Howe.

Title I, he said, should be viewed as part of a package of federal programs, including model cities, designed to alleviate the problems of the big city slums.

"Title I is the largest of all these programs," he said. "It represents a significant step toward meaningful help for those who are down and out in America."

Jury Finds Wessner Is Guilty

CINCINNATI (AP)—A U.S. District Court jury found James Wessner guilty Tuesday of refusing to report for draft induction, but Judge David S. Porter deferred sentencing pending a probation hearing.

Porter said that he would also review a charge of defense attorney Thomas Luken that evidence presented at a preliminary hearing last week should have gone before the jury.

Luken said he would seek a new trial on those grounds for Wessner, 25, a native of near Blanchester.

Claiming he was opposed to the Vietnam war and wanting to be classified as a protestor, Wessner refused to report for induction at Wilmington, last December.

Mary Lewis of the Wilmington draft board testified Tuesday that Wessner, a Harvard graduate and graduate student at the University of California, was reclassified from 2S to 1A after he graduated from Harvard.

Mrs. Lewis said Wessner turned in his draft card on Sept. 11. About a dozen persons opposing the war attended the trial. The jury returned its verdict after only 15 minutes of deliberation.

U.N. Debates On Mideast

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council continues debate today on the situation in Jerusalem, meeting on the eve of a military parade that Israel plans to hold in the captured Arab sector of the city despite a council resolution opposing it.

Muhammad H. El-Farra of Jordan was the only speaker listed for the afternoon meeting, the council's third on the complaint he filed last week against the parade. He was expected to press the council for action to stop the march, which will commemorate Israel's 20th anniversary, but there appeared to be nothing effective the council could do.

El-Farra in a statement Tuesday said he had accused Israel of "glaring defiance of the authority and will" of the council, which on Saturday unanimously adopted a resolution calling on Israel not to hold the parade.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Te-koh rejected the resolution.

Tigers Blanked By Washington

Circleville lost the first of four consecutive games scheduled this week when host Washington C. H. parleyed six hits, a pair of Tiger errors and six bases on balls into a 3-0 victory.

Weather permitting, Circleville is on the road at Washington C. H. in a tournament game Thursday and meets Miami Trace Friday on Tiger field.

It was the third loss for Circleville in South Central Ohio League action against two wins. Overall the Tigers' record is 3-3.

Washington pushed across one run in the bottom of the first and two in the second to complete the scoring in the game.

DON Cordle, junior right handed hurler for CHS, blanked the Blue Lions for the remainder of the game. He struck out six.

Circleville got to the Washington pitcher, Kelley, for six singles. The Tigers left seven runners stranded on base during the game.

Kelley walked one and fanned 10 of the Tiger batters. Rick Congrove led the Circleville hitting attack with two singles in three trips. Dawson was three for four for the Blue Lions.

Celts Stop Laker Rally

BOSTON (AP) — Reserve Don Nelson's "greatest game" and a typically spectacular performance by John Havlicek have boosted the Boston Celtics to within one victory of the National Basketball Association championship. But Coach Bill Russell says it was a "very bad play" on his own part which clinched matters.

Havlicek's field goal Tuesday night with 38 seconds left in an overtime period had given the Celtics a 119-117 lead over Los Angeles. The Lakers' Elgin Baylor then drove in for what could have been the tying basket.

Suddenly Russell came out of nowhere to block the shot and that was it, with Nelson sinking a clinching free throw in the 120-117 victory.

The decision left the Celtics with a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 series as they strive to regain the championship they lost to Philadelphia a year ago. The sixth game will be played in Los Angeles Thursday, with the seventh if necessary, scheduled in Boston Sunday.

Larry Dierker Leads Astros to Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

With nowhere to go but up, Larry Dierker and the Houston Astros went for double or nothing ... and made a twin killing.

The Astros, rebounding from a chaotic 17-2 loss to Cincinnati that deposited them in the National League cellar, backed Dierker's two-hit pitching with five double plays Tuesday night and blanked the Reds 3-0.

It was only the second victory for the Astros in their last 11 games and the first triumph for Dierker after three straight setbacks during which he was given a total of three runs' support.

In other NL night games St. Louis held off Los Angeles 2-1 and Pittsburgh overtook the Chicago Cubs 4-3. The New York Mets edged Philadelphia 1-0 and San Francisco trimmed Atlanta 7-0 in afternoon action.

Dierker, a 21-year-old fireballer whose fortunes had sagged after an opening day victory over Pittsburgh, limited the hard-hitting Reds to a pair of singles. He struck out seven and issued three walks, but the Houston infield turned over double plays in the second, third, fourth, sixth and seventh innings for a single game club record.

The Astros broke up a scoreless duel between Dierker and Cincinnati southpaw Gerry Arriago in the eighth, tallying all their runs on Ron Davis' double and singles by John Bateman, Denis Menke, Jim Wyan and Doug Rader.

Ray Washburn stopped the Dodgers with ninth inning relief help from Joe Hoerner and ran his pitching mark to 3-0 as the Cardinals won for the seventh time in their last eight starts.

St. Louis scored its first run on a three-base error by left fielder Jim Fairley in the third inning and added what proved to be the winner in the sixth on Curt Flood's infield hit, a wild pitch by loser Bill Singer and Mike Shannon's bad-hop single past second baseman Paul Popovich.

'Violent American Life Talked Of in Europe Again

LONDON (AP) — The suggestion that Americans have a tendency toward violence has popped up again in foreign commentary on the United States.

Two weeks after one British writer said the Americans' greatest fault is "an undue tolerance of violence," another wrote from Washington: "The United States is a violent country."

"It was born in violence, and developed in violence," said Louis Heren of the Times of London. "Foreign wars have been periods of regulated violence between the revolution and the latest race riots."

"Four of the 35 presidents were assassinated, and Mr. Johnson (the 36th President) was not the first to limit his movements for fear of violence. This is not an indictment, or an expression of latent anti-Americanism, but a statement of fact."

Czechs Set To Purge Secret Police

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's interior minister promised Tuesday that his department and the police would be purged of old-line Stalinists. He also announced that wire-tapping equipment is now outlawed.

"Three or four deputy ministers together with other top officials will be replaced," Interior Minister Josef Pavel told the Czech news agency CTK. He added that personnel changes would go "down to the ground."

Pavel pledged a careful investigation of all officials who took part in the Stalinist purges of the 1950s and said all "defaulters" will have to answer to the law or will be dismissed from the police force.

The shake-up in the police department came to light on April 12, when Pavel disclosed that he was separating the secret police from the regular civilian police services. This move was recommended in the Action Program of party chief Alexander Dubcek, helmsman of the new liberal course. At that time Pavel also said he was trying to remove from the force "people who violated the law."

Order Names Placed on Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court ordered Tuesday that the names of two prominent Cuyahoga County Republicans be placed on the May ballot as 22nd district candidates for the GOP national convention delegation.

U.S. Rep. Frances P. Bolton and A. L. DeMaio, the county GOP chairman, had been ruled off the ballot by lower courts in Cuyahoga County. But the Supreme Court reversed that ruling by a 5-2 decision.

The Cuyahoga County Election Board appealed to the high court from disqualification of the two candidates on grounds that their petitions were not properly notarized.

Charge Newark Man with Arson

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A 20-year-old Newark man picked up for investigation in a theft case Tuesday was later charged with arson in Monday's $250,000 down town fire.

Police said the suspect, Fred Heistand, was a recent escapee from the state's Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus.

The earlier statement about toleration of violence was by Paul Johnson, writing in the left-wing weekly New Statesman.

An Associated Press sampling of foreign opinion also turned up comments on nonviolence in La Nation, the Gaullist party organ in France.

In a three-page section on "America in the face of the black problem," the newspaper commented: "Has nonviolence been outlived? The tragic end of pastor Martin Luther King tends to indicate this is so."

"It was a certain section of America, that of fraternity and good will, which was once again assassinated... It is to be hoped that the death of Pastor King will fortify the faith of his followers."

In comment on American presidential candidates, a West German writer criticized Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. Most German correspondents recall the enthusiastic greeting the German people extended to the senator's elder brother, President John F. Kennedy, and expect Robert to be popular too. Kurt T. Leissler wrote in the nationally distributed Sunday paper Welt am Sonntag that if a "second President Kennedy" should enter the White House he would be active in foreign politics.

But, Leissler said, his primary effort in Europe would be not the revitalization of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

New Heart Too Much For Patient

PARIS (AP) — French heart-transplant patient Clovis Roblain died because his vigorous new heart flooded his lungs with blood, his doctor said Tuesday night.

Roblain, 66, lived for 5½ hours with the heart of a 23-year-old metal worker killed in an auto crash. The operation Saturday night was the first heart transplant in Europe and the seventh reported in the world.

After an autopsy, Dr. Christian Cabrol, 43, the surgeon who headed the transplant team, gave this explanation of Roblain's death Tuesday morning: "Clovis Roblain had a deficient circulatory system, and because he had remained in bed for so long he had numerous clots in his veins. When a new and vigorous heart propelled a normal circulatory flow, it swept away all the clots and flooded his lungs."

Before the autopsy, Dr. Maurice Mercadier, the chief surgeon at La Pitie Hospital, where the operation was performed, said Roblain had died because of an insufficiency of blood to the brain.

PROGRAM

If I am elected to U. S. Congress I shall advocate a modification of the Fifth Amendment as a step toward protecting law abiding citizens against criminal interference. Prime suspects of heinous crimes should be required to answer reasonable questioning under oath. As the law now stands the Fifth Amendment is a protective shield for crime syndicates.

I shall further advocate a uniform compulsory insurance act which would force all automobiles on our nation's highways to be covered with adequate liability insurance coverage. This is especially important in this day and age when we have extensive interstate travel. Too often injured persons are left destitute and a public liability, because a negligent motorist was either underinsured or uninsured.

Elimination of slums and poverty will be another of my objectives. To do this I shall back effective rehabilitation and employment centers in our depressed areas where individuals can be trained to be self-sustaining, and eventually contributors to our national productivity. Care must also be continued to

Frantic New Musical 'Hair' Droll, Eccentric at Best

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — The yippie movement of youthful anything-goes protest roared into Broadway's Bitmore theater Monday night with "Hair," a very frantic musical.

At its best the show bristles with droll vitality and eccentric charm. At its worst, it becomes an ear-splitting, tasteless pot-smoking-a berserk "hellzapoppin'" of hokum and post-juvenile nonsense.

A less elaborate version of the rockbeat gyrations and plaintive tunes that are the main substance was done earlier this season at off-Broadway's Public Theater, later moved with unfortunate results into the Cheetah nightclub.

For this edition, a half dozen more songs have been inserted and another director, Tom O'Horgan-one of the chief gurus of off-Broadway experimentation-called in to intensify spit-in-the-eye insolence.

Main targets of the episodes, which have been hung loosely on an hallucinatory trifle of plot, are the war in Vietnam, air pollution, and of course the square world that doesn't regard dirty shirts, pot and sloth as groovy delights.

The whole thing is performed at a sustained level of souped-up sound that succeeds-perhaps fortunately -- in making some of the words incomprehensible. Assorted mixed-media stunts are employed to an accompaniment of flashing lights, marches by performers through the audience to intensify involvement, and a series of Indian-like war dances.

Ravenna Arsenal Faces Activation

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Production of large-caliber ammunition for the Vietnam war is expected to begin in August at the Ravenna Arsenal, the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. said Tuesday.

The Army has awarded a $1 million contract for reactivation of the arsenal which has been maintained largely on a standby basis since it was deactivated after the Korean War in 1957. Firestone operates the plant for the Army.

By August next year the arsenal is expected to employ about 3,700. At present it employs 470, mostly in maintenance work.

the people who are truly helpless. But assistance to those who are unwilling to work should be eliminated.

For Senior Citizens I shall sponsor legislation which will allow them to earn more money while drawing Social Security benefits; without decreasing their Social Security payments which they are now receiving.

To meet our country's commitment in Southeast Asia and to stop aggressive Communism I shall back our military in Viet Nam. If I have constructive criticism to offer during this time of war I shall convey it privately to the Administration so we can present a unified front to our enemy.

To meet the demands of our Federal budget I will support all attempts to cut needless spending, call for a collection of the debts owed to us by foreign countries who are able to pay us, and adjust the tax structure to meet military needs, or obvious emergency measures. At all times I shall attempt to keep our taxes at the lowest practical level.

At one point a motorcycle roars down the center aisle. For finale of the first act, in counter-fact, a half dozen of the male performers and several of the girls stand forth completely nude in the staging's dim light.

Or so it is designed to appear. A gentleman seated a few rows forward vowed the illusion was achieved with some costuming.

Full of uninhibited language and action, "Hair" can outrage many. As a manifestation of certain aspects of this high-strung era, it can fascinate. For some of the first-night audience, the whole thing seemed to resemble an old-fashioned revival meeting.

Johnson To Sign Mortgage Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign a bill lifting the 6 per cent interest rate ceiling on home mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

Johnson sought congressional passage of the bill, which was completed Tuesday. The law would be effective for 17 months, after which Congress must authorize any extension.

Pressure for the measure came from the homebuilding industry and sponsors argued it no longer is possible to get mortgage loans as low as 6 per cent anywhere in the country.

English Students, Teacher Leaders in Space Tracking

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Nine teenagers and their physics teacher, hard at work on the crossword puzzle of Soviet space flights, have scored a remarkable number of firsts.

Supervised by Geoffrey Perry, their 39-year-old physics teacher, the boys at Kettering Grammar School are spending most of their spare time monitoring Russian space flights as an adjunct to their physics classes. Kettering is a town of 25,000, in Northamptonshire 65 miles northwest of London.

At Christmastime 1966 they announced that their observations showed the Soviets were using a new secret launching site near Archangel, in arctic Russia, instead of their usual sites in Asian Kazakhstan.

The observations were made with a "junk" radio receiver which was obsolete 20 years ago. The discovery was confirmed later by such eminent observatories as Jodrell Bank in Britain and Bochum in West Germany.

Last Oct. 29 the boys announced that the Russian space capsule Cosmos 186 had suddenly ceased transmitting after only 34 orbits and two days in the air. Again Bochum confirmed their finding.

Sunday it was a dead heat between Bochum and the boys.

They announced simultaneously the Russians had recovered Cosmos 216 after eight days in orbit.

Sunday's observations were made with a new radio receiver presented to the class last November by the manufacturer and a London newspaper. They were made with the old makeshift directional aerials, however.

The new set cost $1,884, the old one $70. The class had used the old one since 1960.

The nine boys, 16 to 18 years old, are chosen from the school's last three grades on the basis of their reliability and enthusiasm. They spell each other at the receiver in the physics lab over the weekends, during their lunch period and before and after school.

Perry said the boys don't often track American space flights because "there is no mystery about them. The boys prefer the crossword puzzle of Soviet space flights."

The Russians never give out advance information on flights and only small amounts once they have gone into orbit.

Attention! REPUBLICANS

of Circleville and Pickaway County:

THE JUDGE PLEADS FOR YOUR HELP...

JUDGE WILLIAM AMMER,

Pickaway County's Common Pleas Judge for 11 years, is running for Judge of the COURT OF APPEALS in Ohio's Fourth District...

This District is HUGE — hundreds of square miles in which live more than a half-million people...

PICKAWAY COUNTY IS ONE OF THE 15 counties that make up this district. However, the time and resources of Judge Ammer and his Campaign Committee had to be concentrated in the other 14 counties where the name AMMER is not as well known as it is in Circleville and Pickaway County...

EVEN THOUGH Pickaway County has few contests and issues in this primary, THE PICKAWAY COUNTY REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE asks all Republicans to go to the polls May 7 to

VOTE FOR JUDGE WILLIAM AMMER FOR COURT OF APPEALS

The Circleville Herald said: "High Court Needs Ammer... He is the most qualified candidate... A solid citizen, an experienced attorney and a LEADER AMONG JUDGES." The Herald endorsement declared: "Ammers should be elected to the Court of Appeals bench. Vote for Ammer."

The Republican Executive Committee agrees with The Herald.

The Republican Committee endorsed Judge Ammer several weeks ago.
